

News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, February 10, 2019 print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. Broadway is booming, and now more actors are going to share in the riches. In a groundbreaking agreement Friday, the commercial producers who finance Broadway's big hits have agreed to give a percentage of profits to whom? (MAIN)
2. The courtship went on for 10 whole days. They were kept apart, but tantalizingly close enough so that each could see, hear and smell the other. When the matchmakers believed the time and the place were right — Friday at London Zoo — the rare Sumatran tiger called Asim and a female named Melati were put in the same enclosure together. What happened? (MAIN)
3. The Sumatran tiger is found in the wild only on the Indonesian island of Sumatra, and the World Wide Fund for Nature says fewer than _____ exist, down from an estimated 1,000 in 1978. (MAIN)
4. Thailand's chaotic politics took two astonishing turns last week when the sister of the king made a historic bid to become prime minister. What happened next? (MAIN)
5. Democratic Sen. _____ made her bid for the presidency official Saturday in the working-class city of Lawrence, grounding her 2020 campaign in a populist call to fight economic inequality and build "an America that works for everyone." (MAIN)
6. Sleek and aerodynamic, Whiskey is dashing through the dog show world. He's among the fastest breed of pooches on the planet. What breed of dog won best in show at the recent AKC National Championship and National Dog Show? (MAIN)
7. Gauging how much activity is really taking place in an elementary school physical education class has never been easy for teachers. Motivating those not interested in breaking a sweat is even more difficult. Help in both those regards arrived this year for teachers and students in the Burlington-Edison School District with the introduction of the Heart Zones System. What do students wear and what does it track? (NW SUNDAY)
8. An injured hiker rescued last week after 40 hours in the woods during a snowstorm said she did what three things to help her survive? (NW SUNDAY)
9. Analysts say that Boeing pulled off another 'Houdini' moment. What are they referring to? (BUSINESS)
10. The benefits of a plant-based diet — one abundant in plant-sourced foods but not animal products — for health and the environment are supported by numerous studies. But a new Lancet report suggests that everyone who eats meat should cut back — way back. What does the report say? (THE MIX)

News Break Scavenger Hunt Answer Key: Sunday, February 10, 2019

1. Performers who help develop successful shows. (MAIN, A5)
2. He promptly killed her, moments after they were introduced for the first time. (MAIN, A8)
3. 400 (MAIN, A8)
4. The king shut down her effort as “inappropriate” because it violated tradition and the constitution, which keep the monarchy from getting involved in politics. (MAIN, A1)
5. Elizabeth Warren (MAIN, A16)
6. Whippet (MAIN, A16)
7. Students wear sensors that let them see their activity level and allow teachers to monitor it in real time. (NW SUNDAY, B6)
8. Huddled under a tree for protection from the elements, slept in a ball to avoid hypothermia and conserved her cellphone battery in case she got service, a newspaper reported Friday. (NW SUNDAY, B8)
9. Despite all the setbacks, Boeing regularly manages to exceed Wall Street’s estimates with maneuvers that can move around hundreds of millions of dollars. That’s because aircraft purchases involve such large sums, on payment schedules that are negotiable and adjustable. (BUSINESS, D1)
10. The report, released by the global EAT-Lancet Commission on Food, Planet, Health, co-chaired by Walter Willett, M.D., of Harvard University, was released Jan. 17, and calls for doubling global intake of vegetables, fruits, nuts and pulses (beans and lentils) while reducing intake of red meat and sugar by more than half. (THE MIX, E10)

News Break is posted to the Web on Monday. Please share this NIE News Break program with other teachers. To sign-up for the print replica for your class, please call 206/652-6290 or toll-free 1-888/775-2655. Copyright © 2019 The Seattle Times Company