

News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, May 12, 2019 print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. President Donald Trump has heightened tensions with China by escalating his tariffs on $200 billion in Chinese goods from 10% to ____%. (MAIN)
2. A new program in Wales will allow family doctors to offer patients an unusual prescription for better health: _____. (MAIN)
3. The Pacific Northwest is again experiencing surging spring heat that shattered temperatures this past week and prompted red-flag warnings for _____ risks in lowland portions of Southwest Washington. (NW SUNDAY)
4. Student poverty and hunger is becoming a high-profile issue in America as more and more first-generation students from working-class backgrounds go to college. A national survey released recently said 45% of student respondents from more than 100 colleges had been food insecure in the past 30 days. What two main things are seen as the cause? (NW SUNDAY)
5. Gov. Jay Inslee signed a bill this week to direct money to tribal health-care systems and create a council focused on improving health outcomes for members of the _____ tribes in the state. (NW SUNDAY)
6. The Pacific Northwest may pride itself on gender equality, but that message hasn't quite hit the region's technology startups.

According to a new report on the world's most productive startup "ecosystems," just ____ percent of tech startups in the Seattle area have women founders, according to the Global Startup Ecosystem Report, which was released Thursday by San Francisco-based Startup Genome. (BUSINESS)

7. "_____ has a lot to do with the home buying season. It all happens in cycles. Summer is popular because the kids are out of school and there's more time to shop for a house." (BUSINESS)
8. They are recording the song as part of the _____, in which parents experiencing homelessness work with Symphony musicians and graduate students from Seattle Pacific University's music-therapy program to compose lullabies for their children. It's the sixth year for this collaboration between Seattle Symphony and Mary's Place, King County's largest emergency shelter provider for families. (THE MIX)
9. "Many of their dentists are trained in the U.S.," says Bill Seavey. "We can get work done for about one-third of the U.S. prices. Our local dentist actually recommended we go there."

Los Algodones, also known as “ _____ ,” is a small town in northern Baja California that caters to American and Canadian tourists trying to escape the high cost of medical care. (THE MIX)

10. People who sat more than _____ hours a day developed metabolism problems, even if they exercised (JOBS)

News Break is posted to the Web on Monday. Please share this NIE News Break program with other teachers. To sign-up for the print replica for your class, please call 206/652-6290 or toll-free 1-888/775-2655. Copyright © 2019 The Seattle Times Company