

News Break Scavenger Hunt

Sunday's News Break challenges you to hunt through the Sunday, February 21, 2021 print replica of The Seattle Times to find answers to the following questions.

1. A nation numbed by misery and loss is confronting a number that still has the power to shock: _____. Roughly one year since the first known death by the novel coronavirus in the United States, an unfathomable toll is nearing — the loss of a half-million people. No other country has counted so many deaths in the pandemic. More Americans have died from COVID-19, the illness caused by the coronavirus, than on the battlefields of World War I, World War II and the Vietnam War combined. (MAIN)
2. President Joe Biden signed a major disaster declaration that will allow much of Texas to tap vast reserves of _____, his administration said Saturday, offering a new lifeline to a state struggling to recover from a brutal storm that left more than 70 dead and millions without power across the South. (MAIN)
3. Arantxa Cifuentes Gutiérrez, 15, demonstrates the whistling language known as _____, which is still in use on Spain's La Gomera Island thanks to mandatory classes for students. With favorable wind conditions, the sound can carry as far as 2 miles across some canyons. (MAIN)
4. Two days after he broke out for a career-high 32 points in a victory over California, Williams had his sights on something bigger — both for himself and WSU's program. The sophomore from O'Dea High School in Seattle posted a new personal best, going for _____ points while playing a program-record _____ minutes and making a tying three-pointer near the end of regulation time to help the Cougars outlast NCAA tournament hopeful Stanford 85-76 in triple overtime Saturday. (SPORTS)
5. The restoration project — funded by the Port of Seattle and organized by land conservation nonprofit Forterra — is part of a larger, million-dollar effort to protect what? (NW)
6. Dozens of ancient coins seized in 2017 at the U.S.-Canada border in Blaine have been transferred to the University of Washington to be studied, authorities said. Why were Homeland Security agents able to take them? (NW)
7. Millions of jobs that have been shortchanged or wiped out entirely by the coronavirus pandemic are unlikely to come back, economists warn, setting up a massive need for what? (BUSINESS)
8. This is a big month for Mars. China, the United Arab Emirates and the United States all sent robotic spacecraft that arrived in recent days to the red planet. Of these, NASA's _____ rover is most ambitious. (BUSINESS)
9. The recent stock market mania over the video game retailer GameStop, which last week was scrutinized by Congress, has provided a teachable moment for kids. The Associated Press talked to a few parents and financial experts for their tips on talking with kids about what?

(BUSINESS)

10. The ketogenic diet isn't just any low carbohydrate diet. It's very low in carbohydrates and very high in fat, putting the body into ketosis. What does this mean? (THE MIX)